International Society of Hotel Associations Announces 2019 Board of Directors

BOSTON, MA - The International Society of Hotel Associations (ISHA) elected its 2019 Board of Directors at its annual meeting in Denver, Colorado at the Le Meridien Denver Downtown. The 2019 chair will be Eric Terry, President, Virginia Restaurant, Lodging & Travel Association. In addition, the elected officers for 2019 were announced as Mindy Hanan, President & CEO, Alabama Restaurant & Hospitality Association (1st Vice Chair); Paul Sacco, President & CEO, Massachusetts Lodging Association (2nd Vice Chair); Lynn Minges, President & CEO, North Carolina Restaurant & Lodging Association (Treasurer/Secretary); and Jennifer Flohr, Senior Vice President, California Hotel & Lodging Association (Immediate Past Chair).

"ISHA membership is becoming more valuable to each state hospitality and lodging association as we continue to face many of the same issues," said incoming board chair, Eric Terry. "It is a great resource that allows us to connect with our sister associations across the country on important issues such as membership and government affairs. I am excited for this opportunity to work closer with my colleagues as the 2019 Board Chair."

In addition, members at large elected to the Board of Directors included Alicia Maltby, Executive Director, Alaska Hotel & Lodging Association; Dannette Lynch, Director of Membership, Florida Restaurant & Lodging Association; Scott Joslove, President & CEO, Texas Hotel & Lodging Association; and Kim Sabow, President & CEO, Arizona Lodging & Tourism Association.

“ISHA is honored to have such an accomplished group guide our association in 2019,” stated Christina Pappas, Executive Director of ISHA. “Under the leadership of the Board of Directors, the entire membership is well positioned for another successful year.”
